CSP receives CSR award in Mexico

New Gold's Mexican subsidiary, the Cerro San Pedro mine, located in the central state of San Luis Potosí, received today the prestigious award for Corporate Social Responsibility by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce: the 2015 CanCham Outstanding Business Award (COBA).

This recognition highlights Cerro San Pedro's effective engagement, caring for sustainable development, well-being of its workers and families and its constructive presence in each of the 13 communities surrounding the mine. "COBA awards are granted for those companies which best represent the mission and vision of the Chamber", stated its Chairman, Mr Jorge Morfin. Other areas where 2015 COBA awards were conferred, include innovation (for Bombardier Recreational Products), investment (Diavaz) and connectivity (Ontario Province).

This award follows New Gold's 2014 recognition ranked among the top 50 socially responsible corporations in Canada.
