Helping government protect Canada's housing finance system – coast-to-coast

Genworth Canada has a strong presence in Ottawa – regularly meeting and communicating with the Department of Finance, the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions, the Bank of Canada and Members of Parliament. We are frequently consulted and regularly share data and advice to help guide the direction and substance of Canada's housing finance policy. We also work and meet with provincial governments and regulators on matters of interest to homeowners and taxpayers.

In addition, we work with other stakeholder groups that share similar goals in promoting responsible homeownership and sound housing finance policy. We are active members in key industry associations, including Mortgage Professionals Canada and the Mortgage and Title Insurance Industry of Canada. We are also members of the C.D. Howe Institute, the Canadian Housing and Renewal Association, and the Chamber of Commerce network.

Genworth Canada is recognized as a leader in mortgage insurance, and Canada is widely regarded as having one of the most sound housing finance regimes in the world. Other governments, including those of the United Kingdom, Ireland and Mexico, have called on Genworth Canada executives for advice and best practices. We also regularly meet with international organizations, including the International Monetary Fund, to provide information on and insight into the Canadian market.

Our government relations programs also include support for initiatives aimed at building future leaders. We are an active supporter of the Parliamentary Internship Programme, and we engage with its organizers to help them gain knowledge and understanding of housing issues that are of interest to the federal government.
