

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

Many factors could cause our actual results, performance or achievements to differ materially from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements and forward-looking information including those which are discussed in greater detail under the heading “Risk Factors” in our February 8, 2016 Annual Information Form for the year ended December 31, 2015 (“AIF”).

NON-GAAP DISCLOSURE

We use the term “earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization” (“EBITDA”) to reference earnings from continuing operations before interest income, interest expense, depreciation & amortization expense, and the provision for income taxes as disclosed in the reconciliation of net earnings/loss to EBITDA included in this MD&A. We report EBITDA in the belief that it may be useful for certain investors and readers of the financial statements as a measure of our performance. We had previously used the term “adjusted earnings” as a measure of our performance; however, we believe that EBITDA may be more useful for certain investors and readers of the financial statements as a measure of our performance in comparison to our industry peers. EBITDA IS NOT A MEASURE OF FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE UNDER U.S. GAAP. IT DOES NOT HAVE ANY STANDARDIZED MEANING PRESCRIBED BY U.S. GAAP AND IS THEREFORE UNLIKELY TO BE COMPARABLE TO SIMILARLY TITLED MEASURES USED BY OTHER COMPANIES. EBITDA SHOULD NOT BE INTERPRETED AS AN ALTERNATIVE TO NET EARNINGS AND CASH FLOWS FROM OPERATIONS AS DETERMINED IN ACCORDANCE WITH U.S. GAAP OR AS A MEASURE OF LIQUIDITY.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS OVERVIEW

Revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 were $15,961 and $46,121, respectively, representing a decrease of $19,029 or 54% and $9,279 or 17%, respectively, over the same periods last year. The decrease in revenue is attributable to lower fixed payment license agreements signed during the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 and the completion of certain fixed payment license agreements signed in previous years.

As at June 30, 2016, we had 43 partners and over 50 patent portfolio programs. During the six months ended June 30, 2016 we signed 21 licenses.

Operating expenses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 were $18,781 or 118% of revenues and $39,257 or 85% of revenues, respectively, representing a decrease of $283 or 1% and $4,529 or 10%, respectively, as compared to the three and six months ended June 30, 2015. The decrease in operating expenses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 is primarily attributable to lower litigation expense, lower base salary costs as a result of the staffing reductions undertaken in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2015 and foreign exchange losses partially offset by higher patent maintenance, prosecution and evaluation expense, contingent partner payments and legal fees expense, accrued costs related to variable compensation and restricted share units as a result of an increase in stock price during the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 and amortization expense.

Litigation expense, which is included in cost of revenue, accounted for approximately $596 or 3% and $1,488 or 4% of total operating expenses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016, respectively, as compared to $3,145 or 16% and $9,385 or 21% of total operating expenses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2015, respectively. Our preference is to negotiate licenses without the use of litigation; that is not, however, always possible. Given the number of litigations we are currently involved in and the related fee arrangements, litigation expenses for 2016 are expected to decrease from the 2015 levels excluding contingent litigation payments. Litigation activities, and therefore litigation expenses, are difficult to predict as there are many factors that can influence any action that is commenced.

We recorded a net loss for the three months ended June 30, 2016 of $3,152 or $0.03 per basic and diluted share and net earnings for the six months ended June 30, 2016 of $1,768 or $0.01 per basic and diluted share, respectively, as compared to net earnings for the three and six months ended June 30, 2015 of $10,958 or $0.09 per basic and diluted share and $6,200 or $0.05 per basic and diluted share, respectively.

We consider EBITDA, a non-GAAP measure, to be a good indicator of performance for the business as it more accurately captures financial performance in a given period related to the operations of the business.

The table below reconciles the net earnings/loss to EBITDA.

1. Weighted average number of commons shares used in the calculation of EBITDA per basic share and earnings (loss) per basic share under GAAP.

EBITDA for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 was $7,136 and $26,950, respectively, as compared to $25,168 and $29,844 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2015, respectively. The decrease in EBITDA as compared to the same period last year is primarily attributable to a decrease in revenue and an increase in patent maintenance, prosecution and evaluation expense, accrued variable compensation costs and accrued costs related to restricted share units as a result of an increase in stock price and contingent partner payments and legal fees expense, partially offset by a decrease in litigation expenses, salary costs and foreign exchange losses.

Results of Operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 as compared to the three and six months ended June 30, 2015

Revenues

Revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 were $15,961 and $46,121, respectively, representing a decrease of $19,029 or 54% and $9,279 or 17%, respectively, over the same periods last year.

	Three months ended		Six months ended
	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015
Revenues	$ 15,961	$ 34,990	$ 46,121	$ 55,400
Decrease from comparative period	(54%)		(17%)

Revenues can vary significantly from quarter to quarter depending upon the type of royalty arrangement with licensees, the timing of royalty reporting by licensees, the cyclical nature of licensees' markets and fluctuations in foreign currency and other factors. Revenues can fluctuate based on individual licensees' growth and success rates in their respective markets, and other market factors on their respective businesses and other factors outside of our control. See "Risk Factors" contained in our AIF for more detailed information.

Three licensees individually accounted for 20%, 16% and 13% of revenues from royalties for the three months ended June 30, 2016, as compared to one licensee which accounted for 46% of revenue from royalties for the same period last year. Three licensees individually accounted for 21%, 14% and 11% of revenues from royalties for the six months ended June 30, 2016, as compared to two licensees which individually accounted for 29% and 11% of revenue from royalties for the same period last year.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2016, the top ten licensees accounted for 95% and 83% of revenues from royalties, respectively, as compared to 90% and 84% for the same periods last year.

Historically, a significant portion of our revenues has been generated by license agreements having fixed periodic payments, however we expect that an increasing portion of our revenues will be generated by license agreements having one-time lump sum payments. Given the expected shift in the business model just described, revenues are likely to vary, perhaps significantly, from period to period.

Cost of revenue

Cost of revenue is comprised of patent licensing expenses which includes royalty obligations, cost of patents sold, employee related costs and other costs incurred in conducting license negotiations, contingent partner payments and legal fees, litigation expense and amortization of patents expense related to acquired patents. We also consider the expenses related to sourcing new patent portfolios or developing new strategic partnerships and the management of our patent portfolio as cost of revenue. The management of our patent portfolio involves filing patent applications, prosecuting applications to obtain issued patents, documenting infringement, assessing validity of issued patents, conducting due diligence on patents and applications to be acquired and other general administrative tasks. Many of these costs are directly related to the size and breadth of our patent portfolio and, therefore, as we add or reduce patents, these costs would be expected to increase or decrease accordingly. We are continuously looking at ways to reduce costs including reducing our patent count if revenues will not be impacted.

Litigation and amortization expenses are not necessarily variable with revenues.

The table below provides the details of cost of revenue:

	Three months ended		Six months ended
	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015

Percent of revenue	101%	46%	74%	64%
Increase (decrease) from comparative period	0%		(4%)

Cost of revenue for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 was $16,143 or 101% and $34,135 or 74% of revenues, respectively, as compared to $16,131 or 46% and $35,597 or 64% of revenues for the same periods last year. The decrease in cost of revenue for the six months ended June 30, 2016 is primarily attributable to a decrease in litigation expense and salary costs partially offset by an increase in patent maintenance, prosecution, and evaluation costs, contingent partner payments and legal fees, accrued variable compensation costs and accrued costs related to restricted share units as a result of an increase in stock price during the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 and amortization expense. In general, patent licensing expenses are proportional to the breadth and depth of our licensing programs and should be expected to increase as we add programs to our business operations. As a result of the expansion of the number of our licensing programs, an increase in litigation matters and an increase in partnering arrangements with the previous patent owners and contingent legal fee arrangements with law firms, cost of revenue is expected to increase in fiscal 2016.

Litigations are a normal part of our business which may extend over multiple years and are principally a discretionary cost, not directly related to or necessarily proportional to the revenues we generate. Our external litigation expenses consist of expenses related to the conduct of our litigation activities and include the costs of external legal counsel and third party costs including those of expert witnesses and other service providers required during the course of litigations that are not otherwise contingent.

Pursuant to our engagement of McKool Smith (“McKools”) in respect of certain litigations that concluded in 2011, in consideration for a discount on fees in connection with such litigations, we have agreed to pay McKools a success fee based on achieving certain minimum financial measures attributable to such litigations. Upon achieving these financial measures, McKools will be entitled to receive a percentage of the proceeds actually received pursuant to the licensing agreements relating to these litigations up to a maximum of $27,986. We have collected and expect to collect proceeds from these license agreements over the next twelve months. Should we collect these amounts as contemplated in the agreements, McKools will be entitled to the entire success fee. We accrued the full amount of the success fee obligation in fiscal 2011. As at June 30, 2016, the current and long term portions of the success fee obligation are $1,767 and $140, respectively. During the six months ended June 30, 2016, we paid McKools $1,731 (six months ended June 30, 2015 - $2,145) based on proceeds collected as of March 31, 2016.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2016, litigation expenses amounted to $596 and $1,488, respectively, as compared to $3,145 and $9,385 for the same periods last year. The decrease in litigation expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 is attributable to an increase in shared risk fee arrangements with external legal counsel in comparison to the same period last year.

We have engaged the services of certain law firms to represent us in certain patent infringement litigations. Pursuant to these engagements, we have agreed to pay these law firms a success fee which is based on a percentage of proceeds received (as defined in the respective agreements) pursuant to future license agreements resulting from these patent infringement litigations. We have in the past, and may again in the future, agree to pay a discounted fixed-fee, capped at an amount that would normally be a fraction of the estimated total fees, as an advance against any future success fee payments. Any success fees payable to these law firms are expensed in the period for which the applicable revenues are recognized. All fixed fee amounts are expensed in the period they are incurred.

Litigation expenses are expected to vary from period to period due to the variability of litigation activities, and shared risk fee arrangements. We expect a decrease in litigation expenses in fiscal 2016 as a result of the expected level of litigation activities and the corresponding fee arrangements excluding any contingent legal fees.

Our partnering programs relate to specific patent portfolios owned or controlled by our operating subsidiaries. These partner programs have contingent payment arrangements with the previous patent owners and most often have contingent legal fee arrangements with law firms. As these licensing programs generate revenues we expect to incur contingent partner payments and contingent legal fees. The contingent partner payments and contingent legal fees are expected to fluctuate from period to period based on the amount of revenues recognized each period, the terms and conditions of the particular contingent legal fee arrangements, the type of contingent partner payment arrangements with the previous patent owners and the mix of specific patent portfolios generating revenues each period.

In the course of our normal operations, we are subject to claims, lawsuits and contingencies. Accruals are made in instances where it is probable that liabilities may be incurred and where such liabilities can be reasonably estimated. Although it is possible that liabilities may be incurred in instances for which no accruals have been made, we have no reason to believe that the ultimate outcome of these matters would have a significant impact on our consolidated financial position. We are currently not subject to any claims or lawsuits and therefore no amounts have been accrued.

Research and development expense (“R&D”)

During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2015 we eliminated our R&D activities and, therefore, we do not expect to incur any expenses related to R&D. We do not expect the elimination of our R&D activities to have a material impact, if any, on our business model.

Marketing, general and administration expense

Marketing, general and administration (“MG&A”) expenses represent the cost of corporate services including facilities, executive management, finance, corporate legal, human resources, office administration, marketing and communications, information technology and all costs associated with being a public company.

The table below provides the details of MG&A expense:

	Three months ended		Six months ended
	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015
Compensation and benefits	$ 1,645	$ 758	$ 2,947	$ 1,949
Depreciation	106	108	213	226
Stock-based compensation	1	72	18	188
Public company costs	447	410	1,147	725
Facilities	148	152	317	301
Other	405	712	757	1,074
	$ 2,752	$ 2,212	$ 5,399	$ 4,463
Percent of revenue	17%	6%	12%	8%
Increase from comparative period	24%		21%

MG&A expenses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016, amounted to $2,752 or 17% of revenues and $5,399 or 12% of revenues, respectively, as compared to $2,212 or 6% of revenue and $4,463 or 8% of revenues for the same periods last year. The increase in spending for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 is primarily attributable to an increase in compensation and benefits expenses as a result of higher accrued costs related to variable compensation and restricted share units and an increase in public company costs related to accrued costs for deferred stock units held by certain non-executive members of our Board partially offset by lower base salary costs. The increase in accrued costs related to restricted share units and deferred stock units is attributable to the increase in stock price during the three and six months ended June 30, 2016.

MG&A costs will vary from period to period depending on activities and initiatives undertaken and changes in staffing levels in any given period. Restricted share units and deferred stock units are variable elements and therefore changes in the stock price could be expected to impact compensation spending and public company costs.

Foreign exchange gain/loss

The table below provides the details of the foreign exchange gain/loss:

	Three months ended		Six months ended
	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015
Realized foreign exchange loss	$ 2	$ 654	$ 70	$ 1,192
Unrealized foreign exchange (gain) loss	(116)	(646)	(347)	1,102
	$ (114)	$ 8	$ (277)	$ 2,294
Percent of revenue	(1%)	0%	(1%)	4%
Decrease from comparative period	NM*		NM*

Our realized foreign exchange loss is attributable to unhedged transactions denominated in currencies other than our functional currency, U.S. dollars and is a result of the change in exchange rates in effect when foreign denominated transactions are initially recorded and the corresponding settlement.

The unrealized foreign exchange gain recognized in the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 resulted from the translation of monetary accounts, primarily cash and cash equivalents, short-term investments, dividends, and accounts payable, denominated in Canadian dollars to U.S. dollars. The change from last year is attributable to the decrease in the level of monetary accounts denominated in Canadian dollars and the Canadian dollar strengthening relative to the U.S. dollar during the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 as compared to the same periods last year for which the Canadian dollar weakened relative to the U.S. dollar.

From time to time we may utilize forward contracts to enhance our ability to manage foreign currency exchange rate risk and exposure to currency rate fluctuations related primarily to future cash outflows of Canadian dollars. The foreign exchange forward contracts would normally require us to sell U.S. dollars for Canadian dollars at prescribed rates.

As at June 30, 2016, we did not have any foreign exchange forward contracts.

We cannot accurately predict foreign exchange movements and as such, cannot accurately predict future gains and losses related to holding assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than U.S. dollars.

Interest income

Our recorded investment income for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 was $120 and $238, respectively as compared to $119 and $241 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2015, respectively. Interest income includes interest earned on deposits and short-term investments.

Provision for (recovery of) income taxes

The table below provides the details of income tax expense/recovery:

	Three months ended		Six months ended
	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2015
Current income tax expense	$ 837	$ 1,031	$ 3,860	$ 2,034
Deferred income tax expense (recovery)	(385)	4,056	1,474	3,621
	$ 452	$ 5,087	$ 5,334	$ 5,655
Current income tax expense % of revenue	5%	3%	8%	4%

Income tax expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 was $452 and $5,334, respectively, as compared to $5,087 and $5,655 for the same periods last year. The provision for income tax is recognized based on management's best estimate of the weighted average annual income tax rate expected for the full financial year.

The current income tax expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 and 2015, consisted primarily of foreign taxes withheld on royalty revenues received from licensees in foreign tax jurisdictions for which there is no treaty relief. Withholding tax expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 was 5% of revenue and 8% of revenue, respectively, as compared to 3% and 4% of revenue for the same periods last year. The increase in withholding tax expense as a percentage of revenue is attributable to an increase in revenue from jurisdictions for which there is no tax treaty relief.

The decrease in the deferred income tax expense is primarily attributable to the recognition of certain Canadian losses partially offset by an increase in the valuation allowance. There is a valuation allowance of $19,797 as at June 30, 2016 (December 31, 2015 - $17,583) against deferred tax assets for certain of our Canadian and all of our U.S. subsidiaries. We establish a valuation allowance for any portion of our deferred tax assets for which management believes it is more likely than not that we will be unable to utilize the assets to offset future taxes. We will continue to evaluate our deferred income tax position quarterly and record any adjustment necessary in that period.

We expect to continue to utilize certain previously recognized Canadian loss carryforwards. Until such time as our licensing programs in certain of our Canadian and U.S. subsidiaries generate sufficient taxable income we expect to continue to maintain a full valuation allowance against deferred tax assets for these Canadian and U.S. subsidiaries. As a result, we expect our provision for deferred income tax expense to be disproportionate when compared to our estimated average annual rate.

1. EBITDA and EBITDA per share are non-GAAP measures. See "Non-GAAP Disclosures" and the "Reconciliation of EBITDA" contained in this MD&A.

Our quarterly revenues are affected by the amount and timing of fixed payment based licenses, the amount of running royalty based licenses, and any new lump sum payment based licenses signed in a quarter. Our quarterly operating expenses are affected by the number of litigation matters and licensing programs, the timing of partner payment obligations and contingent legal fees associated with our partnering program and foreign exchange gains/losses. Given these factors, quarterly revenues and operating expenses can fluctuate and be difficult to predict.

Historically, our operating results have fluctuated on a quarterly basis and we expect that quarterly results will continue to fluctuate in the future. The operating results for interim periods should not be relied upon as an indication of the results to be expected or achieved in any future period or any fiscal year as a whole. The factors affecting our revenue and results, many of which are outside of our control, include the factors set out under the heading “Risks and Uncertainties” above which are discussed in greater detail under the heading “Risk Factors” in our AIF which we urge readers to review carefully.

Because our quarterly revenue is dependent upon a relatively small number of transactions, even minor variations in the rate and timing of payment of royalties could cause us to plan or budget inaccurately, and those variations could adversely affect our operating results. Delays or reductions in the amounts of royalty payments would adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

CAPITAL AND LIQUIDITY

Cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments amounted to $103,718 at June 30, 2016, representing an increase of $9,167 from the $94,551 held at December 31, 2015. The increase is primarily attributable to $23,062 of cash generated from operations partially offset by the payment of dividends totaling $2,242, the repurchase of common shares under a normal course issuer bid totaling $3,123 and patent acquisition payments totaling $2,777 for the repayment of patent finance obligations for patents acquired in 2013 and, payments totaling $6,150 for patents acquired in 2015 and 2016.

At June 30, 2016, we had working capital of $88,863, long-term success fee obligation of $140 and long-term patent finance obligations of $18,407 which relates to deferred payment terms on patents we acquired during fiscal 2013.

At June 30, 2016, the current and long-term portions of the patent finance obligations are $7,207 and $18,407, respectively. We expect the repayment of the long-term portion of the patent finance obligation to be completed within the next four years.

We have a revolving credit facility available in the amount of CDN$8,000 or the equivalent in U.S. dollars for general corporate purposes and a further CDN$3,000 for foreign exchange facility. Canadian dollar or U.S. dollar amounts advanced under this credit facility are payable on demand and bear interest at the bank's Canadian prime rate plus 1.0% per annum or U.S. base rate plus 1.0% per annum. Borrowings under this facility are collateralized by a general security agreement over our cash and cash equivalents, receivables and present and future personal property. As at and during the six months ended June 30, 2016, we had no borrowings under this facility.

Effective February 10, 2016, we received regulatory approval to make a normal course issuer bid (the “2016 NCIB”) pursuant to which we are permitted to purchase up to 11,762,446 common shares for cancellation. The 2016 NCIB commenced on February 12, 2016 and will expire on February 11, 2017. During the six months ended June 30, 2016, we repurchased 1,770,000 common shares under the 2016 NCIB for a total cost of $3,123.

We plan to use our cash resources to fund our operations and any litigation that might be required, to purchase additional high quality patent portfolios and patent licensing businesses that are identified and fit our value proposition and strategic objectives, and to fund any dividend payments and the purchase of any of our common shares.

Our ability to generate cash from operations going forward is based on collecting royalties under our signed licenses and additional licensing of our patent portfolios to companies around the world. It is difficult to predict the timing and nature of future licenses from existing patent portfolios and from future patent portfolios we acquire or obtain through partnering arrangements.

We plan to finance our cash requirements for operating expenses, litigation costs and technology acquisitions by a combination of cash generated from licensing our patent portfolio and, if desirable based on market conditions, by selling common shares or debt securities to the public.

DISCLOSURE CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

In conformance with National Instrument 52-109 – Certification of Disclosure in Issuers' Annual and Interim Filings of the Canadian Securities Administrators, we have filed certificates signed by our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer that, among other things, deal with the matter of disclosure controls and procedures.

Our management has evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of June 30, 2016, and based on our evaluation has concluded that these are effective.

The evaluation took into consideration our corporate disclosure policy and the functioning of our executive officers, Board and Board Committees. In addition, our evaluation covered our processes, systems and capabilities relating to regulatory filings, public disclosures and the identification and communication of material information.

Critical accounting estimates are defined as estimates that are very important to the portrayal of our financial position and operating results and require management to make judgments based on underlying assumptions about future events and their effects.

These underlying assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances and are subject to change as events occur, as additional information is obtained and as the environment in which we operate changes.

MANAGEMENT’S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting. Internal control over financial reporting is a process designed by, or under the supervision of, our Chief Executive Officer and our Chief Financial Officer to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Because of its inherent limitations, however, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis.

Our management evaluated, under the supervision of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as at June 30, 2016. We based our evaluation on criteria established in “Internal Control over Financial Reporting - 2013” issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (“COSO”) and, based on that evaluation, we have concluded that, as of June 30, 2016, our internal control over financial reporting is effective.

CHANGES IN INTERNAL CONTROLS

There have been no changes in our “internal control over financial reporting” that occurred during the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 which have materially affected or are reasonably likely to materially affect the internal control over financial reporting.
