

Business Analyst

If you grew up on a farm in western Canada and went on to study finance, accounting or agribusiness, this might be the perfect position for you.

Input Capital Corp. is an emerging innovator on the western Canadian agriculture scene with big growth plans. While the company is only three years old, we've already raised over $100 million from investors and have a market capitalization of about $150 million, making us the 5th largest public company in Saskatchewan. We're based in Regina, and are listed on the TSX Venture Exchange under the symbol INP.

Input is looking for a business analyst with some basic farming knowledge or understanding. This is a new position with big opportunities for growth and development in a rapidly growing company that is changing the game for Prairie farmers.

Key responsibilities include:

Streaming Contract Investment Process

- Support due diligence process for streaming contract acquisitions
- Gather and assemble financial information from prospective clients
- Prepare investment proposals for management and Investment Committee

Portfolio Reporting and Other

- Streaming contract portfolio reporting and analysis
- Create ad-hoc financial analysis spreadsheets
- Conduct financial research, assemble and present findings
- Monitor and report on trends, capital and agricultural markets

Preference will be given to an individual who possesses:

- An undergraduate degree in finance, accounting, agribusiness, or a relevant area
- A farming background in western Canada would be helpful, but is not a requirement
- Two to five years' experience in a corporate environment, although new graduates with the right mix of education and skills will also be considered
- Previous experience with agriculture venture capital, private equity, or lending is ideal, but similar experience in any sector is also suitable
- Solid Excel skills with working knowledge of the rest of the MS-Office suite
- Understanding of accounting and financial principles
- Strong attention to detail with demonstrated organizational and analytical skills
- Excellent communication, interpersonal and problem solving skills
- The ability to work independently using sound judgment and initiative; and
- Cooperative talent, motivation and willingness to experience a fast-paced environment.

Attitude

- As part of a small team, you need to be the kind of person who is willing to jump in as necessary to get things done.
- You need to be flexible and adaptable, and willing to work longer hours when the need arises.
- You should enjoy your work and have a good sense of humour.

Compensation

- Competitive salary + benefits

- Annual bonuses
- Stock option plan

If you fit the profile above and want to join a company that is on the move, you should consider applying for this position. Please submit your cv/resume via email to brad@inputcapital.com as soon as possible.
