30 Five Star Communities Featured on U.S. News and World Report's Prestigious List of Best Nursing Homes

NEWTON, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Five Star Senior Living Inc. (Nasdaq: FVE) is pleased to announce that U.S. News and World Report, the global authority in health care rankings, has recognized 30 Five Star communities in its annual list of "Best Nursing Homes". The list of the country's best short-term rehabilitation and long-term care facilities reflects comprehensive information about care, health inspections and staffing, as well as other factors including COVID-19 management, flu and pneumonia vaccination rates, and infection control protocols.

"During these unprecedented times, we have remained focused on the health and wellbeing of our residents, clients, their families and our team members," said Katie Potter, President and Chief Executive Officer. "This recognition is the result of our team members' outstanding dedication and commitment to this effort. We appreciate the strong support and expressions of gratitude we have received from residents and their families across the Five Star portfolio of communities. Despite the challenges of the pandemic, we remain focused on providing an exceptional resident experience for our residents and look forward to continuing to welcome new residents to our communities."

This year, the list was updated to include a patient safety summary that reflects COVID-19 data alongside other measurements. U.S. News and World Report also offers advice on choosing a home or community amidst the pandemic. All measures used by U.S. News and World Report were derived from publicly available data from CMS as of August 2020. For more information regarding methodology of the ratings, please click here.
