"Our hard work is paying off; we've taken home more than 50 design award wins in the past 16 months alone," said Bracken Darrell, Logitech president and CEO. "Logitech strives to be a leading company in technology, but one with design at its core. Our goal is to bring products to market that consumers love."

Each year, the International Design Awards honors legendary design visionaries and uncovers new talent in architecture, interior, product, and graphic and fashion design. This year, IDA juries examined 1,000 entries from 52 countries and chose winners based on achievements in design, creativity, usability and innovation.
