

POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS POLICY

Advance Auto Parts, Inc., together with its subsidiaries (the “Company”), does not make political contributions to candidates for federal, state or local elective office; nor does the Company make contributions to political parties or other committees for the purpose of influencing the election of candidates to federal, state or local public office. While the Company does belong to certain trade associations and industry groups, it is the Company’s policy to request that associations and groups not use membership fees, dues or other funds received from the Company for contributions to candidates for federal, state or local elective office, political parties or other committees for the purpose of influencing the election of candidates to federal, state or local public office.

Participation in a trade association does not mean that the Company is in agreement with all of the policy positions taken by or the issues prioritized by that organization. While the Company generally does not make payments to trade associations or other industry groups to be used specifically for political purposes, the Company occasionally makes corporate contributions to influence legislation or ballot measures on issues that would impact its industry, business or operations. The Company does not have a Political Action Committee (PAC). The Company may from time to time donate to a PAC for the purpose of influencing legislation or ballot measures on issues that would directly impact its industry, business or operations.

No contributions may be made based on the personal interests of any employee or director. Any proposed Company contributions must be made with the approval of the Company’s General Counsel and its Chief Executive Officer. The Company will disclose any contributions it makes on at least an annual basis in its sustainability report published on its website. Political contributions are reviewed periodically, and at least annually, with the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee of the Company’s Board of Directors, which consists solely of independent directors.
