PROXY STATEMENT

INTRODUCTION

We are sending you this proxy statement on or about April 13, 2005 in connection with the solicitation of proxies by our board of directors. The proxies are for use at our 2005 annual meeting of stockholders, which we will hold at 8:30 a.m., local time, on May 18, 2005, at The Hotel Roanoke and Conference Center, 110 Shenandoah Ave, NW, Roanoke, Virginia. The proxies will remain valid for use at any meetings held upon adjournment of that meeting. Our principal executive offices are located at 5673 Airport Road, Roanoke, Virginia 24012, and our telephone number is (540) 362-4911. Unless the context otherwise requires, "Advance," "we," "us," "our" and similar terms refer to Advance Auto Parts, Inc., its predecessor, its subsidiaries and their respective operations.

The record date for the meeting is March 30, 2005. All holders of record of our common stock on the record date are entitled to notice of the meeting and to vote at the meeting and any adjournment thereof.

A proxy card is enclosed. Whether or not you plan to attend the meeting in person, please date, sign and return the enclosed card as promptly as possible, in the postage prepaid envelope provided, or vote your proxy by Internet or telephone by following the instructions on the proxy card to ensure that your shares will be voted at the meeting. You may revoke your proxy at any time prior to its use by filing with our corporate secretary an instrument revoking it or a duly executed proxy card bearing a later date or by attending the meeting and voting in person.

Unless you instruct otherwise in the proxy, any proxy, if not revoked, will be voted at the meeting:

- for our board's slate of nominees;
- to ratify the appointment by our audit committee of Deloitte & Touche LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for 2005; and
- to transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting or any adjournment thereof, including against the stockholder proposal to request an amendment to our employment opportunity policy.

OUTSTANDING SECURITIES AND VOTING RIGHTS

Our only voting securities are the outstanding shares of our common stock. On the record date, we had 71,554,297 shares of common stock outstanding and 439 stockholders of record. If the stockholders of record present in person or represented by their proxies at the meeting hold at least a majority of our outstanding shares of common stock, or 35,777,149 shares, a quorum will exist to transact business at the meeting. Stockholders of record who abstain from voting, including brokers holding their customers' shares who cause abstentions to be recorded, are counted as present for quorum purposes.

For each share of common stock you hold on the record date, you are entitled to one vote on each matter that we will consider at this meeting. You are not entitled to cumulate your votes.

If you hold shares through a broker, you should follow the instructions for voting that you receive from your broker. If you want to vote in person, you must obtain a legal proxy from your broker and bring it to the meeting. If you do not submit voting instructions to your broker, your broker may vote on the following matters in its discretion: (1) the election of directors, (2) the ratification of appointment by our audit committee of Deloitte & Touche LLP and (3) the stockholder proposal to request an amendment to our employment opportunity policy.

The voting requirements for the proposals we will consider at the meeting are:

- Election of directors. Directors are elected by a plurality, and the ten candidates who receive the most votes will be elected to our board of directors. Votes withheld will have no effect on the election of any director.
- Ratification of appointment by our audit committee of Deloitte & Touche LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for 2005. An affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares, or represented by proxy, and entitled to vote at the annual meeting will be required to ratify the appointment by our audit committee of Deloitte & Touche LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for 2005. Abstentions count as votes cast and have the effect of a vote against the proposal.
- Stockholder proposal. An affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares present, or represented by proxy, and entitled to vote at the annual meeting will be required to approve the stockholder proposal to request an amendment to our employment opportunity policy. Abstentions count as votes cast and have the effect of a vote against the proposal.

We will pay for the cost of preparing, assembling, printing and mailing this proxy statement and the accompanying form of proxy to our stockholders, as well as the cost of soliciting proxies relating to the meeting. We may request banks and brokers to solicit their customers who beneficially own our common stock listed of record in names of nominees. We will reimburse these banks and brokers for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses for these solicitations. Our officers, directors and employees may supplement these solicitations of proxies by telephone, facsimile, e-mail and personal solicitation. We will pay no additional compensation to our officers, directors or employees for these activities.

Corporate Governance

Majority of Independent Directors

Our board of directors, after consultation with and the recommendation of the nominating and corporate governance committee, determined that Messrs. Brouillard, Jackson, Oglesby, Ray, Saladrigas, Salter, and Ms. Spinelli are each “independent” directors under the listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange, or the “NYSE,” because: (1) each director has no material relationship with us or our subsidiaries, either directly or indirectly as a partner, stockholder or officer of an organization that has a relationship with us or our subsidiaries, and (2) satisfies the “bright line independence” criteria set forth in Section 303A.02(b) of the NYSE’s listing standards. The board of directors made this determination, after assessing the issue of materiality of any relationship not merely from the standpoint of each of these directors, but also from that of persons or organizations with which the director may have an affiliation, based upon all facts and circumstances known to the board of directors, including, among other things, a review of questionnaires submitted by these directors, an interview with each of the directors and a review of a recent resume or biography of each of the directors.

Our board of directors reviews each director’s status under this definition annually with the assistance of the nominating and corporate governance committee. Each of our directors are required to keep the nominating and corporate governance committee fully and promptly informed as to any developments that might affect his or her independence.

Meetings of Non-Management Directors

During 2004, the non-management directors on our board of directors met a total of five times. John M. Roth, who resigned as a director effective December 17, 2004, served as lead director until May 2004 when he was succeeded by Mr. Salter. The lead director was the presiding director at these meetings. For 2005, our non-management directors are scheduled to meet separately in conjunction with each of the five scheduled meetings of the board of directors.

Stockholder and Interested Party Communications with our Board of Directors

Communications with our Board of Directors Generally. Stockholders who desire to communicate with our board of directors, or with a specific director, including on an anonymous or confidential basis, may do so by delivering a written communication to our board of directors, c/o Advance Auto Parts, Inc., 5673 Airport Road, Roanoke, Virginia, 24012, Attention: General Counsel. The general counsel will not edit or modify any such communication received and will forward each such communication to the appropriate member or members of our board of directors, as specified in the communication. The envelope of any communication which a stockholder wishes to be confidential should be conspicuously marked “Confidential,” in which case the general counsel will not open the communication. Communications will be forwarded by the general counsel to our board of directors or any specified directors on a bi-monthly basis, provided however, the general counsel will ensure the timely delivery of time sensitive communications to the extent such communication indicates time sensitivity.

In addition, we have a policy that each of our directors should make every reasonable effort to attend each annual meeting of stockholders. At our 2004 annual meeting of stockholders, all directors were in attendance.

Interested Party Communications with our Independent Directors. Any interested party, including stockholders, who desire to communicate directly with one or more of the independent directors, including on an anonymous or confidential basis, may do so by delivering a written communication to the independent directors, c/o Advance Auto Parts, Inc., 5673 Airport Road, Roanoke, Virginia, 24012, Attention: General Counsel. Such communications will not be disclosed to the non-independent members of our board of directors or management unless so instructed by the independent directors. Communications will be forwarded by the general counsel to the independent director or directors, as the case may be, on a bi-monthly basis, provided however, the general counsel will ensure the timely delivery of time sensitive communications to the extent such communication indicates time sensitivity.

Stockholder Recommendations for Director Candidates. The nominating and corporate governance committee will consider stockholder suggestions for nominees for directors. Any stockholder who desires to recommend a director candidate must submit the recommendation in writing and follow the procedures set forth in our by-laws. The committee does not evaluate any candidate for nomination as a director any differently solely because the candidate was recommended by a stockholder. You may obtain a copy of our bylaws by requesting a copy from our corporate secretary at Advance Auto Parts, Inc., 5673 Airport Road, Roanoke, Virginia 24012. Our by-laws also are available on our website at www.advanceautoparts.com.

The committee evaluates each candidate for director within the context of the needs of the board in its composition as a whole. The committee considers such factors as the candidates' business experience, skills, independence, judgment and ability and willingness to commit sufficient time and attention to the activities of the board. At a minimum, committee-recommended candidates for nomination must possess the highest personal and professional ethics, integrity and values, and commit to representing the long-term interests of our stockholders.

How does Advance's board of directors recommend that I vote on this proposal?

Our board of directors recommends that you vote against approval of this stockholder proposal.

Why does Advance's board of directors oppose this proposal?

Our board of directors believes this proposal is unnecessary. We are an equal opportunity employer. We are fully committed to complying with all applicable equal employment opportunity laws and believe that our current policies and practices fully achieve the objectives of this proposal. We believe it is not practical or even possible to list all possible categories on which to prohibit discrimination. We believe that such an effort would only divert attention from the overall goal of a truly non-discriminatory workplace.

What policies does Advance have prohibiting discrimination in the workplace?

Our written employment policies prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability or any other legally protected status, and mirror the non-discrimination categories of federal law. Our non-discrimination policy applies to all areas of employment, including but not limited to hiring and recruitment, training, promotion, transfer, demotion, counseling and discipline, team member benefits and compensation and termination of employment.

Each team member is a valuable part of our business and team. It is an essential part of our values to respect all people, and we require each of our team members to act in accordance with that value every day. We do not tolerate disrespectful treatment, discrimination or harassment of any team member, vendor or customer.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

We are responsible for providing independent, objective oversight of Advance's accounting functions and internal controls and operate pursuant to a written charter approved by Advance's board of directors. We are comprised entirely of three independent directors who meet independence, experience and other qualification requirements of the New York Stock Exchange listing standards, Section 10A(m)(3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the rules and regulations of the SEC. Advance's board of directors has determined the committee's current chair, Mr. Saladrigas, is the audit committee "financial expert," as defined by SEC rules.

Management is responsible for Advance's financial reporting process, including Advance's system of internal control, and for the preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Advance's independent accountants are responsible for auditing its consolidated financial statements and providing an opinion as to its conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States as well as attesting and reporting on management's assertion about the effectiveness of its internal controls over financial reporting. Our responsibility is to monitor and review these processes. It is not our duty or responsibility to conduct auditing or accounting reviews or procedures. Consequently, in carrying out our oversight responsibilities, we shall not be charged with, and are not providing, any expert or special assurance as to Advance's financial statements, or any professional certification as to the independent auditor's work. In addition, we have relied on management's representation that the financial statements have been prepared with integrity and objectively in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, and on the representations of independent accountants included in their report on Advance's financial statements.

During 2004, we met eight times, including three times via conference call. We schedule our meetings to ensure we have sufficient time to devote attention to all of our tasks. During 2004 and subsequent to the end of the year, we:

- appointed Deloitte & Touche LLP as the independent registered public accounting firm for fiscal year 2004;
- met with management and the independent accountants to review and discuss Advance's critical accounting policies and significant estimates;
- met with management and the independent accountants to review and approve the fiscal year 2004 audit plan;
- met regularly with both the independent accountants and internal audit outside the presence of management;
- met with management and the independent accountants to review the audited financial statements for the year ended January 1, 2005 and internal controls over financial reporting as of January 1, 2005;
- reviewed and approved the quarterly and annual reports prior to filing with the SEC;
- reviewed and approved the quarterly earnings press releases and other financial press releases;
- met with the Director of Internal Audit to review, among other things, the audit plan, test work, findings and recommendations, staffing; and
- completed all other responsibilities under the audit committee charter.

We have discussed with the independent accountants the matters required by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61 (Communication with Audit Committee), which includes a review of significant accounting estimates, internal controls and Advance's accounting practices. In addition, we have received written disclosures from the independent accountants required by Independent Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees), and discussed with independent accountants their firm's independence.

Based upon our discussion with management and the independent accountants, and our review of the representations of management and the independent accountants, we recommended to the board of directors that the audited consolidated financial statements be included in Advance's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended January 1, 2005.

We considered whether the independent accountant's provisions of non-audit services to Advance is compatible with maintaining the independent accountants' independence, and have determined the provision of the non-audit services are compatible with the independent accountants' independence. Accordingly, we have approved the retention of Deloitte & Touche LLP as Advance's independent registered public accounting firm for fiscal year 2005.

We reviewed and reassessed the adequacy of the charter as of December 2, 2004, with no changes being recommended.

REPORT OF THE COMPENSATION COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

We are responsible for the review and determination of compensation awarded to Advance's executive officers (including the named executive officers) and key members of management, including authorizing awards under Advance's long term incentive plan. We operate under a written compensation committee charter adopted by the board. We met five times during 2004.

Compensation Philosophy

Our general compensation philosophy is to ensure that:

- compensation for executive officers is tied to annual and long-term company performance goals that are structured to align the interests of executive officers with those of Advance's stockholders;
- a significant portion of total compensation is equity-based, thereby further aligning the interests of executive officers and Advance's stockholders; and
- executive compensation is comparable with compensation levels at major competitors so that Advance can attract, retain, and motivate superior management talent who are essential to Advance's long-term success.

There are two primary types of compensation provided to Advance's executive officers:

- annual compensation, which includes (1) base salary intended to provide a stable annual salary at a level consistent with individual contributions, and (2) annual incentive bonuses intended to link such bonuses to Advance's performance; and
- long-term incentive compensation, which includes stock options or other equity based compensation intended to encourage the maximization of stockholder value.

Evaluation and Approval of Annual and Long-Term Incentive Compensation

Each year we review and evaluate the compensation programs for executive officers and key members of management. We review information provided by leading executive compensation consultants to establish the appropriate level and basis of base salary, annual bonus opportunity, and long-term incentive opportunities for executive officers and other key members of management. We conduct this review near the beginning of each fiscal year, at which time we also approve annual base salaries, criteria for bonus incentive plans and long-term incentive compensation.

We attempt to link executive compensation for each executive officer to those variables over which the executive generally has control. Included in our criteria for making salary adjustments, and particularly bonuses and stock option awards, are achievements against the following financial and non-financial targets:

- Financial targets: these include growth in company net operating profit; improvement in net operating profit margin; revenue growth; comparable store sales growth; achievement of inventory levels; and
- Non-financial targets: these include building organizational talent; development and implementation of key operating and strategic business initiatives; and enhancement of management performance throughout the company.

Annual Compensation

Base Salary. When establishing base salary for each executive officer, we consider Advance's performance, each executive's individual performance and the executive's level of experience, responsibilities and tenure, particularly in relation to other executive officers and key members of management. We aim to position base salaries for Advance's executive officers annually at levels consistent with industry average.

Annual Incentive Bonuses. Advance's bonus plan provides for the payment of cash bonuses based upon Advance's performance in relation to the predetermined financial targets established at the beginning of the year. We aim to establish bonus targets annually at levels slightly higher than the industry average. The overall bonus potential, calculated as a percentage of base salary, varies depending upon the level of the executive position. A maximum bonus payout of 120% of base salary can be achieved for our highest level of executives if all financial targets are exceeded.

We met in February 2004 and established financial performance targets, which consisted of operating income, sales growth and achievement of inventory levels. These targets are weighted based on the significance of the key performance indicators in driving stockholder value. We approved the payment of incentive bonuses to Advance's executive officers (excluding the incentive bonus paid to Advance's CEO) equal to an aggregate of $1,273,968 in 2004, compared to incentive bonuses of $1,381,225 for 2003. We approved the payment of these incentive bonuses primarily based on the level of achievement towards the above pre-established targets.

Long-Term Incentive Compensation

To be competitive in attracting and retaining qualified executive officers and to provide them with performance incentives, we also grant stock options to Advance's executive officers under the Advance long-term incentive plan. In approving stock option grants, we consider primarily the impact the executive is expected to have on increasing stockholder value and recent performance toward specific goals that contribute to that result. Such specific goals differ among executives, but all relate to the speed and effectiveness with which Advance increases stockholder value. In 2004, we approved the grant to Advance's executive officers of options to purchase 471,000 shares of common stock (excluding options granted to Advance's CEO), compared to options to purchase 415,000 shares of common stock in 2003, primarily in recognition of our favorable 2004 operating results and as a result of additional grants related to the designation of the next CEO.

Chief Executive Officer Compensation for 2004

The CEO's salary is based upon the criteria described in this report. In 2004, Mr. Castellani received base salary payments of $715,837, compared to base salary payments of $669,566 in 2003. This base salary is subject to annual increases at the discretion of the committee. In 2004, we approved an increase in Mr. Castellani's base salary as a result of his service for the past year and the key role he will play in the future.

Mr. Castellani's incentive bonus for 2004 was determined in accordance with the provisions of the overall bonus plan. Mr. Castellani's bonus potential for 2004 was 100% of his base salary. Mr. Castellani received an incentive bonus of $245,357 in 2004, compared to an incentive bonus of $359,746 in 2003.

For fiscal 2004, Mr. Castellani's bonus was converted from a quarterly payment cycle to an annual payment based on full-year 2004 results. As a result of the positive 2004 operating results, Mr. Castellani received a bonus of $522,226 in February 2005.

In addition, we approved the grant to Mr. Castellani of options to purchase 120,000 shares of common stock, unchanged from Mr. Castellani's 2003 grant. These options were issued as part of the 2004 annual grant awarded to all executive officers. We approved this grant in recognition of the role of Mr. Castellani in the success of the company.

Mr. Castellani's compensation also reflects (1) his individual leadership displayed throughout the year and (2) relative pay versus that of competitor CEOs.

Chief Executive Officer Transition

As previously publicly announced, a CEO transition is planned for May 2005. Mr. Coppola has been designated as the new CEO effective May 18, 2005. Mr. Castellani will continue to receive an annual base salary rate of $696,566 until May 2005 (when he relinquishes the CEO position and assumes the position of non-executive chairman of the board). As non-executive chairman of the board, Mr. Castellani will receive an annual retainer over and above normal director fees equal to $125,000 until May 2006. In recognition of Mr. Castellani's role in completing a successful transition, and his superb leadership during his tenure as Chairman and CEO, we also approved the grant of options to purchase 120,000 shares of common stock in February 2005. These options were granted at a price of $50.06 and vest in equal thirds over the next three years.

We utilized a nationally known executive compensation consulting firm to assist us in determining the appropriate transition compensation arrangements for Mr. Coppola. In recognition of Mr. Coppola's increased responsibilities, we approved an increase in his salary to $450,000 per year, effective September 2004 and approved the grant to Mr. Coppola of options to purchase 100,000 shares of common stock at an exercise price of $35.82 per share (such options vest in equal thirds over the next three years). In further recognition of the progress made toward his transition and anticipated full performance of his CEO duties, in February 2005 we also approved the grant to Mr. Coppola of 200,000 options to purchase common stock at an exercise price of $50.06 per share (such options vest in equal thirds over the next three years). Finally, we approved an increase in Mr. Coppola's base salary to $750,000 effective upon his becoming CEO in May 2005. We anticipate making no additional option grants to Mr. Coppola in 2005.

Internal Revenue Code Section 162(m)

We consider the potential impact of Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code. Section 162(m) disallows a tax deduction for any publicly held corporation for individual compensation exceeding $1 million in any taxable year for the corporation's named executive officers, other than compensation that is performance-based under a plan that is approved by stockholders and that meets certain other technical requirements. In 2004, Advance's long-term incentive plan was approved by its stockholders in order to exclude from the $1 million limit any performance based compensation resulting from options or other awards granted under the plan to its "named executive officers."

We consider the anticipated tax treatment to Advance and the executive officers in our review and establishment of compensation programs and payments. We intend to structure all compensation payments to meet the requirements of Section 162(m), but may approve any compensation payments that may not be tax deductible if we determine that such compensation would be in Advance's best interests and those of its stockholders.

(2) The potential realizable value is calculated assuming that the fair market value of our common stock appreciates at the indicated annual rate compounded annually for the entire seven-year term of the option, and that the option is exercised and the underlying shares of our common stock sold on the last day of its seven-year term for the appreciated stock price. The assumed 5% and 10% rates of appreciation are mandated by the rules of the SEC and do not represent our estimate of the future prices or market value of our common stock.

Executive Employment Agreements

Mr. Castellani was appointed our Chief Executive Officer and began employment on February 1, 2000, at which time he signed an employment and non-competition agreement. Mr. Castellani’s employment agreement had an initial term of two years, and renews automatically each year thereafter unless terminated by Mr. Castellani or us. The agreement provides for a base salary of $600,000, subject to annual increases at the discretion of the board of directors, and an annual cash bonus based on our achievement of performance targets established by the board of directors. In the event Mr. Castellani is terminated without cause, or terminates his employment for good reason, as defined in the employment agreement, he will receive salary through the later of the end of the term of employment or one year from the effective date of termination, less any amounts earned in other employment, and the pro rata share of the bonus due to Mr. Castellani prior to the termination of employment. Mr. Castellani has agreed not to compete with us, to preserve our confidential information, not to recruit or employ our employees to or in other businesses and not to solicit our customers or suppliers for competitors until one year after the effective date of termination.

Mr. Castellani has elected to retire as Chief Executive Officer effective at the close of business, May 18, 2005, at which time his employment agreement will be terminated. It is anticipated that Mr. Castellani will remain as chairman of the board subsequent to that date. Mr. Castellani will receive, as compensation for being non-executive chairman, a retainer of $125,000 in excess of normal director fees until the May 2006 meeting of the board.

On April 15, 1998, Messrs. Wade and Klasing and Ms. Stevens entered into employment agreements with us. These agreements contain severance provisions that provide for one year of base salary upon termination of employment, by us without cause or by the employee with good reason as defined in the employment agreement, less any amounts earned in other employment, and the pro rata share of the bonus due to the employee prior to the termination of employment. The agreements extend from year-to-year unless terminated by the employee or us. Other provisions require us to pay bonuses earned by the employee upon our achievement of certain financial targets that are approved by our board of directors, and an agreement by the employee not to compete with us, to preserve our confidential information, not to recruit or employ our employees to or in other businesses and not to solicit our customers or suppliers for competitors.
