be a pop star!

My friend Ana called the other day because she had just bought a house and wanted to talk paint colors. Her new house is nothing like her old one, which was a cute little cottage with cute little rooms. Her new home is open plan all the way—you can see the living room from the kitchen from the entryway. "I'm thinking light gray on the walls," she said. "Nope," I countered. "I know you—you're gonna want pops of color everywhere, so go with white walls. They make everything pop." Ana's sending me some white paint chips to look over. "You're right," she said. "I have to have pops!"

This Pop of Color issue (our fourth!) is dedicated to all the Anas out there who can't-stop-won't-stop decorating with bright, happy accessories. We get you! It's a rush to change up a space without spending a lot of dough. This year we're featuring our favorite ways to affordably and super stylishly add a hit of color—from pendants to pillows in every popular shade. Whether you gravitate toward green, can't live without pink, or adore every color of the rainbow, get ready: Your rooms are about to pop!

It doesn't get any easier (or low-cost) than playing around with colorful pillows. On this window seat, hot pink ones—made with fabric from Threadcount Textile & Design—perk up the black-and-white pair and the striped seat cushion.
