

HERTZ TO OFFER SIRIUS SATELLITE RADIO IN MORE LOCATIONS NATIONWIDE

Service Expanded to 29 Vehicle Models at 53 Major Airport Locations

NEW YORK - December 2, 2003 - SIRIUS Satellite Radio, (NASDAQ: SIRI), known for delivering the very best in commercial-free music and premium audio entertainment to cars and homes across the country, and Hertz, the worlds largest car rental company, today announced that SIRIUS service is now being offered in 29 vehicle models at 53 Hertz major airport locations nationwide.

Also, Hertz customers can now request SIRIUS through their travel agent by calling the Hertz reservation center (1-800-654-3131), or at rental counters at participating Hertz locations. The additional cost for renting a vehicle equipped with SIRIUS is only $3.00 per day.

The increase in vehicle models and airport locations will enable more Hertz customers to drive a vehicle with SIRIUS, and receive 60 channels of commercial-free music and 40 channels of news, sports and entertainment nationwide.

"Hertz has a history of leading the car rental industry with innovations that improve the rental by making it more productive and enjoyable, and bringing SIRIUS Satellite Radio to Hertz customers this year marked another first in the industry," said Brian Kennedy, Executive Vice President, Marketing and Sales, The Hertz Corporation. "SIRIUS takes the guess work out of finding high quality music, and entertainment, along with the latest in business and national news, and it's a perfect fit with our other service-oriented innovations."

"We at SIRIUS continue to be very excited about the progress of this program," said Doug Wilsterman, Senior Vice President of OEM Automotive. "Hertz vehicles with SIRIUS Satellite Radio have been driven more than two million days so far this year, and with the new changes and additions to the program, we project many more days in 2004."
