

Tronox to Continue Engagement with the European Commission Regarding the Planned Acquisition of Cristal TiO₂

December 20, 2017

STAMFORD, Conn., Dec. 20, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Tronox Limited (NYSE: TROX) today confirmed that the European Commission has initiated a Phase II review of the company's planned acquisition of the titanium dioxide (TiO₂) business of Cristal, a privately held global chemical and mining company headquartered in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. The commission would have up to 90 working days, a period that may be extended or shortened, to make a final decision on whether the proposed transaction would significantly impede effective competition in the European Economic Area.

Tronox Chief Executive Officer Jeffrey N. Quinn said: "We remain actively engaged with representatives of the European Commission as they continue their analysis of our planned acquisition of Cristal's TiO₂ business. We believe this highly synergistic acquisition will enhance competition in the global TiO₂ industry and benefit our customers around the world. We look forward to our ongoing engagement with the Commission to secure approval for this transaction in a timely manner."

The transaction has been unconditionally cleared in Australia, China, New Zealand, Turkey, South Korea and Colombia. Reviews in the U.S. and Saudi Arabia are ongoing.
